

The Contributors

and similar papers at core.ac.uk

provided by Ateneo de Manila

Social Sciences at La Trobe University and Adjunct Professor in the Cairns Institute at James Cook University. He is the author of The Collective Imagination (2012), Universities and Innovation Economies (2015), Auto-Industrialism (2017), Limited Government (2019), and The Political Economy of Prosperity (2020). He writes on social theory and public policy. <peter.murphy.australia@gmail.com>

Federico José T. Lagdameo is Associate Professor at the Ateneo de Naga University. He served as Chair of the Philosophy Department and is the current Chair of the University Research Council. He received his MA and PhD in Philosophy from Ateneo de Manila University. His research interests revolve around the fields of ethics, philosophy of technology, social and political philosophy, and the philosophies of Martin Heidegger and Michel Foucault. He was editor of the maiden issue of The Journal of Bikol Studies and is presently the managing editor of BIKOLNON, the academic journal of the Graduate School of Ateneo de Naga University. He is a member of the Society for Philosophy and Technology (SPT), an independent, international organization. <flagdameo@gbox.adnu.edu.ph>

Aurelio S. Agcaoili is on the teaching staff of the University of Hawaii at Manoa where he teaches writing and ethics-designated courses in a number of disciplinary areas. Prior to migrating to the United States, he taught at the University of the Philippines. His research interests are in indigenous philosophy, cultural studies, lexicography, creative writing, and literary relations. Among other recognitions, he has received the Fulbright Award. He has been awarded as a Visiting Professor at the University of the Philippines Baguio and the Mariano Marcos State University several times. <aurelioa@hawaii.edu>

Jacqueline Marie J. Tolentino is currently pursuing her Ph.D. by research under the La Trobe University–Ateneo de Manila University Graduate Research Scholarship. Her thesis topic is on contemporary egalitarianism. She co-authored Doing Philosophy: An Introduction to the Philosophy of the Human Person (Ateneo de Manila University Press, 2018). <jtolentino@ateneo.edu>

Soraj Hongladarom is a professor of philosophy at the Chulalongkorn University in Bangkok. His area of research centers on the impact of technology on non-western cultures and the resulting ethical issues or concerns. He is a published author of various books and journal articles on bioethics, computer ethics, and the role of science and technology in developing countries. <Soraj.H@chula.ac.th>

Ngo Thi Tuyen is an accomplished author and academic. She took her doctorate in psychology at the Vietnam National Institute of Educational Science. She was awarded three fellowships for postgraduate studies. The first was in 1984 for a course in Russian at the Soviet Union. The second was in 2001 for a course in Environmental Education at the University of Strathclyde, Glasgow, Scotland. The third was in 2008 for the International Training Programme on Child Rights, Classroom and School Management in Sweden. She was the Deputy Director for the Center of Education Technology, Vietnam Education Publishing House. She is a curriculum and textbook developer for primary students on lifestyle education, extracurricular activities and life skills, teaching English and Russian. She has authored and co-authored over thirty publications for children and teachers. <ngothituyen@yahoo.com>

Rowena Azada-Palacios is an Assistant Professor of Philosophy at Ateneo de Manila University, and a doctoral researcher at the UCL Institute of Education, University College London. <razada@ateneo.edu>